

DESIGN IN COLOUR

With one perfect colour, Oli Booth provides a master-class in purposeful restraint.

The home of Oli Booth and his family is beautiful, yes, but it's also the result of some dedicated thinking around siting and materials. Joining forces with friends to develop a piece of land, Booth chose what, at first glance, is the hardest site, then built a beguiling home hunkered into the hill.

One colour unites it all, running down the stairs that connect the two levels: Resene Bright Red, rich and pure. It's a colour Booth has used on multiple projects. You can see why.
